

INNO-Pouch: Smart Pouches - Digital, compliant, tight Information

Description: INNO-Pouch 2026 (9th European Stand-Up Pouch Conference) focuses on the three key pillars of modern flexible packaging: digitalisation, compliance and technical performance. Discover how AI-supported design and digital features are accelerating the development of recyclable stand-up pouches. We will show you practical ways to meet the strict requirements of EU regulations (including the PPWR) in a legally compliant manner. A key technical focus is on the challenge of 'tightness' – how mono-materials can maintain maximum barrier performance and seal strength despite reduced complexity. Under the theme "Mastering Circularity", we bridge the gap between material innovation and economic marketability. This conference offers experts from across the entire value chain an exclusive platform for strategic exchange and technical benchmarking. Take advantage of the Innoform Group's collective expertise to make your stand-up pouches future-proof.

Target group: If you are passionate about stand-up pouches – whether you manufacture, process, market or recycle them – you've come to the right place. We offer simultaneous interpreting in European languages.
